RE:

Request for Major Charter Amendment

Dear Commissioner Infante-Green:

On behalf of the Academy of Career Exploration ("ACE"), I write to request a major amendment to ACE's charter pursuant to Section 2.3.1(A.) of the Rhode Island Council on Secondary and Elementary Education Charter School Regulations. See 200-RICR-20-05-2.

On December 17, 2019, the Rhode Island Council on Elementary and Secondary Education voted to renew ACE's charter for one year, with conditions, until June 30, 2021. Since receiving the one year renewal with conditions, ACE's Board of Directors has strived to position itself to meet and address these conditions, including effectuating leadership changes at the board and administrative level, and pursuing the assistance of outside education experts to craft and help implement a viable turnaround plan for the school.

ACE's Board of Directors further evaluated the challenges identified in the charter renewal report relative to the inherent difficulties of the district-charter model. ACE's Board of Directors lastly considered the guidance it received from the Rhode Island Department of Education's Chief for Innovation, Stephen Osborne, who personally attended ACE's February 19, 2020 Board of Directors Meeting to answer questions and provide assurances regarding ACE's students.

After considering the above, ACE's Board of Directors determined that the appropriate course of action is to conclude the charter term and close the school. Accordingly, on February 19, 2020, ACE's Board of Directors voted unanimously to request that the Rhode Island Council of Elementary and Secondary Education approve a major amendment to ACE's charter to conclude its term on June 30, 2020 rather than June 30, 2021. This decision has not been made lightly, and ACE's Board of Directors believes that it is in the best interest of ACE's students and faculty to act now to ensure that each ACE family, student, and faculty member has the best opportunity to consider and settle their respective situation for the 2020-2021 school year and beyond.

Should you have any questions about this request, please do not hesitate to contact me. Thank you in advance for your attention to this matter.

Sincerely,

Joe Devine

CTE Pathways

In 2019, ACE earned 2 out of 3 points in the post-secondary measure within the Diploma Plus indicator in statewide school accountability. About 60% of the 2018 graduates earned a college credit. No student earned a CTE recognized credential.

- ACE has changed their approach to their CTE program over the last charter term. The school shifted from CTE programs in Hospitality and Marketing to three information technology programs as of 2016-17 (Computer Networking and Cyber Security, Computer Programming and Web Development and Data Science). The school has reached out to RIDE to explore changing these pathways.
  - ACE has also introduced a focus on full-time dual enrollment in a partnership with Roger Williams University, made possible by the state's Advanced Course Network. Students participating do not stay enrolled in their CTE programs in their senior year in pursuit of college credit.
  - ACE, on many occasions, has stated their students are not interested in IT, which they attribute to the blind charter lottery, and as such, are working to determine if alternative strategies for their educational programs might be more appropriate.

Organizational Performance

- The school approached expectations on organizational criterion 2.2, School environment due to lower average daily attendance in 2018-19, 87.7% vs. 90.9% for high schools. This measure is unique to the charter performance framework, as student chronic absenteeism is part of the school's star-rating. In 2018, 27.3% of students were chronically absent, and in 2019, 37.9% of students were chronically absent.
- The school approached expectations on organizational criterion 2.3, equity and access in 2018-19. There was no evidence from document review or the renewal site visit that the school analyzes student attrition data and was using attrition in decision-making.

Compliance

Multilingual Learners

- The United States Department of Justice (DOJ) conducted a thorough review of Providence Public Schools' EL programs and services in early 2018. This review found several conditions of the district's EL programming that violate Section 1703(f) of the Equal Educational Opportunities Act. The Settlement Agreement with the DOJ outlines several matters that must be addressed across PPSD schools, including ACE. The charter has acknowledged the Settlement Agreement and has taken action steps both in collaboration with Providence Public Schools and at the school level to address the Settlement Agreement.
- The extent of implementing the corrective actions at the school-level remain unclear and lack clear evidence of implementation. The school has stated it is working with PPSD to: implement an accurate student screening; review WIDA scores of all current and incoming Multilingual Learners to ACE to ensure appropriate class schedules; train teachers in conjunction with PPSD; support two classes dedicated for Multilingual Learners; and adapt the schedule to allow for more intervention time for Multilingual Learners. The school states it has one fully certified instructor for approximately 23 students, is paying tuition for two current teachers to take an accelerated ESL certification program, and has purchased a curriculum to support Multilingual students.

Educational Program:

- During the site visit, students noted a lack of guidance supports, a lack of understanding of their graduation requirements, of how to choose courses and CTE pathways, and how to get support for applying to college.
- Irregular core subject programming for students science: Due a vacant science position in 2018-19, many students did not receive consistent science instruction and voiced frustration with "losing a whole year of science." The site visit team observed teachers of other core subjects being assigned to teach science.
- Curriculum alignment: There was no evidence in all grades and in all core content areas that the charter has implemented curricula aligned to statewide standards. There is not a system or structure to coordinate, plan, or adjust to ensure standards are being delivered in the classroom.
